Name: Rhonda Fields
Handicap: 43 (red)
Best Score ever: 44 in Gundagai. Everything went right - the ball just wanted to be in the hole.
Favourite Hole at SGB: The 2nd. I enjoy the challenge of getting over.

Favourite club: I'm getting my pitching wedge to work well and I'm learning where to use it.

Favourite golfer: Minjee Lee. She's great to watch and makes it look so easy.

Dream playing group: Any of my friends who enjoy playing golf and are good company.

Where would you like to play: Moruya. I have a love/hate relationship with it. It's not an international course, but our time there is always a pleasure.

Favourite food: A succulent roast chicken with all the trimmings.

Favourite drink: A good Gin and tonic.

Tell us something we don't know about you: I met my husband Alan when he came to Australia with the Royal Navy. I flew to London to marry him.

Welcome to the 2024 committee Rhonda.
We're glad you came to join us.

SGBWG CHARITY DAY March 22nd

This year we will be supporting the Shoalhaven Cancer Care Centre.

Many of our players have experienced the care given to them or family members at this important centre.

We are once again seeking your help in finding suitable donations for raffle prizes.

Please ask committee about this if you need more information.

PLEASE HELP US HAVE ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL DAY

HERE'S SOME PUN-ISHMENT TO FILL THE GAP...

The butcher walked backwards into the meat grinder and got a little behind in his work.

I'm reading a book about anti-gravity. It's impossible to put down!

Today a man knocked on my door and asked for a small donation towards the local swimming pool, so I gave him a glass of water.

I used to date a girl with a lazy eye. It turns out she was seeing someone else the whole time!

I removed the shell from my racing snail to make it go faster - but it just made it more sluggish.

It's not that the man didn't know how to juggle, he just didn't have the balls to do it.
